Grammar File

One page for each grammar point, in the order the course teaches it. The wording is A1 wording. Eight terms are used and no others: verb, noun, question, answer, short form, past, now and next.

Unit 1 · am, is, are

Person	Verb	Example
I	am	I am Nadia.
you, we, they	are	You are here.
he, she, it	is	She is a student.

Short forms: I'm · you're · he's · she's · we're · they're.

my, your, his, her go in front of a noun: my name, her bag.

Unit 2 · Questions and short answers

Turn the sentence round to ask:

Sentence	Question
You are a teacher.	Are you a teacher?
She is here.	Is she here?

Answer short: Yes, I am. · No, I'm not. · Yes, she is. · No, she isn't.

a before a sound like b, c, d: a bag. an before a, e, i, o, u: an apple.

this is near. that is far.

Unit 3 · Possessive 's and plurals

Add 's to a name to show it belongs to them: Marek's mother.

Add s to make more than one: one bag, two bags. Some words change: one child, two children · one man, two men · one woman, two women.

our and their go in front of a noun, like my and your.

Unit 4 · there is, there are

One thing	More than one
There is a bed.	There are two beds.

Question: Is there a kitchen? · How many rooms are there?

in, on, under say where: in the kitchen, on the table, under the bed.

Unit 5 · Present simple · I, you, we, they Use it for every day:

I work. You live here. We start at eight. They finish at five.

Question: Do you work here? Answer: Yes, I do. · No, I don't.

Times: at seven o'clock · half past eight · a quarter past nine.

Unit 6 · Present simple · he, she, it

Add s to the verb:

He works. She lives here. It starts at eight.

Some add es: he goes, she watches, he finishes.

Question: Does she work here? Answer: Yes, she does. · No, she doesn't. The s goes on does, not on the verb after it.

Unit 7 · some, any · countable and uncountable

Use some in a sentence: There is some bread. Use any in a question and after not: Is there any milk? · There isn't any rice.

Some words you can count: one egg, two eggs. Some words you cannot: bread, milk, rice, water, sugar. They take is, not are: The milk is cold.

like: I like tea. She likes coffee.

Unit 8 · Where things are · imperatives next to, opposite, between, behind, in front of, near, far from.

To tell someone what to do, use the verb alone: Go straight on. Turn left. Cross the road. Don't turn right.

Unit 9 · can, can't

Person	Verb
I, you, he, she, we, they	can

I can swim. She can drive. They can't cook. can never adds an s, and the verb after it never changes.

Question: Can you swim? Answer: Yes, I can. · No, I can't.

Unit 10 · was, were

The past of am and is is was. The past of are is were.

Person	Past
I, he, she, it	was
you, we, they	were

I was at home. They were at the party. Question: Were you there? · No, I wasn't.

Past time words: yesterday · last week · two days ago.

Unit 11 · Past simple · regular verbs

Add ed to the verb:

work → worked · play → played · listen → listened

If the verb ends in e, add d: live → lived. If it ends in y after a sound like b or r, the y becomes ied: carry → carried. Some double the last letter: stop → stopped.

The past is the same for every person: I worked, she worked, they worked.

Unit 12 · Past simple · irregular verbs · did

Some verbs do not add ed. They become a new word. The list is in the back of this book.

go → went · have → had · see → saw · eat → ate

Question: Did you go? Answer: Yes, I did. · No, I didn't. After did and didn't, the verb goes back to its first form: Did you go? · I didn't go.

Unit 13 · Present continuous

For what is happening now:

Person	Verb	Verb + ing
I	am	working
you, we, they	are	working
he, she, it	is	working

She is cooking now. · They are waiting.

Every day is the present simple. Now is the present continuous: She cooks every day. She is cooking now.

Unit 14 · going to

For what you plan:

I am going to fly. · She is going to pack. · They are going to travel.

Question: Are you going to travel? Answer: Yes, I am.

Next time words: tomorrow · tonight · next week · soon · later.

Unit 15 · Comparatives

Two things, one measure. Add er to a short word:

old → older · cheap → cheaper · big → bigger · busy → busier

Long words take more in front: more expensive · more difficult.

Some are new words: good → better · bad → worse.

Use than between the two things: My bag is bigger than yours.

Unit 16 · like, love, hate + ing

After like, love and hate, the verb takes ing:

I love dancing. · She likes reading. · They hate waiting.

Spelling: dance → dancing (the e goes) · swim → swimming (the m doubles).

Question: Do you like dancing? · What do you like doing?

Unit 17 · would like

would like is a polite way to say want:

I would like a coffee. · Would you like a cake?

Short form: I'd like · he'd like · we'd like. The verb after would like never changes, and there is no s on would.

like is always true. would like is right now: I like coffee. (every day) · I'd like a coffee. (now)

Unit 18 · Superlatives

Three things or more. Add est and put the in front:

the oldest · the cheapest · the longest · the busiest

Long words take most: the most beautiful.

Some are new words: good → the best · bad → the worst.

Two things take er and than. All the things take the and est.

Unit 19 · have got · should

Person	Verb
I, you, we, they	have got
he, she, it	has got

I have got a cold. · She has got a headache. Short forms: I've got · she's got. No: I haven't got a temperature. Question: Have you got a cold? · Yes, I have.

For advice use should: You should go to bed. · You shouldn't go to work. The verb after should never changes.

Unit 20 · The three times, together

Time	Verb	Example
last year	past	I was at school. I worked here.
now	present	I am at work.
next year	will	I will be in Spain. I will live there.

will is the same for every person, and the verb after it never changes.

Question: Will you come back? Answer: Yes, I will.

Irregular Verbs

These verbs do not add ed in the past. They become a new word. Learn them in pairs, and say them out loud.

Now	Past	Arabic
be (am, is)	was	كان
be (are)	were	كانوا
buy	bought	اشترى
come	came	جاء
do	did	فعل
drink	drank	شرب
eat	ate	أكل
find	found	وجد
get	got	حصل
give	gave	أعطى
go	went	ذهب
have	had	كان لديه
hold	held	أمسك
know	knew	عرف
leave	left	غادر
lose	lost	فقد
make	made	صنع
meet	met	قابل
say	said	قال
see	saw	رأى
sleep	slept	نام
take	took	أخذ
wake	woke	استيقظ
write	wrote	كتب

Four that look the same: cost · cut · put · shut. The past is the same word.

After did and didn’t the verb goes back: Did you go? · I didn’t see it. Never did went, never didn’t saw.

Sound and Symbol Table

English does not spell one sound one way. This table gives the twenty-three sounds the course asks you to say, each with a plain spelling you can read on sight, the symbol a dictionary uses, and words from the book.

The plain spelling in the middle column is how the sound is written in Unit 1. Use it until the symbols are easy.

Vowels

Symbol	Say it like	Words in this book	Unit
/eɪ/	ay	name, day, eight, Spain, stay	1
/iː/	ee	three, teacher, see, meet, street	1
/e/	e	ten, bed, red, yes, well	1
/aɪ/	eye	five, nine, hi, time, write	1
/əʊ/	oh	go, no, home, open, oh	1
/juː/	you	you, Tuesday, music, student, new	1
/ɑː/	ar	car, park, start, far, afternoon	1
/ɪ/	short i	sit, big, this, fish, is	2
/æ/	short a	bag, flat, man, apple, have	2
/ɒ/	short o	shop, stop, hot, clock, coffee	4
/ʌ/	short u	bus, much, lunch, up, London	4
/ʊ/	short oo	book, look, good, cook, foot	7

Symbol	Say it like	Words in this book	Unit
/uː/	long oo	two, food, room, soup, school	7
/ɔː/	aw	four, door, morning, walk, talk	8
/ɜː/	er	first, third, work, nurse, Thursday	8
/ə/	weak uh	a, the, teacher, sister, banana	3

The last one, /ə/, is the commonest sound in English. It is what an unstressed vowel turns into: *teach-er, ba-na-na. You never say it loudly.

Consonants worth a line of their own

Symbol	Say it like	Words in this book	Unit
/h/	h, breathed out	hello, hi, house, how, help	1
/θ/	th, tongue out, no voice	three, third, thirsty, thanks	8
/ð/	th, tongue out, with voice	this, that, the, they, there	2
/ŋ/	ng at the back	working, going, singing, young	13
/tʃ/	ch	chair, child, watch, kitchen, cheese	2
/ʃ/	sh	shop, she, shoes, station, delicious	6
/k/	k, even where it is spelled ch	stomach, chemist, school	19

The three endings the course drills

Plural s and he/she/it s are the same three sounds (Units 3 and 6):

After the sound	You say	Words
p, t, k, f	s	books, starts, works, shops

After the sound	You say	Words
most other sounds	z	keys, lives, opens, sisters
s, z, sh, ch, x	iz	watches, finishes, buses, oranges

Past ed is three sounds too, never ed as a full syllable except after t or d (Unit 11):

After the sound	You say	Words
p, k, f, s, sh, ch	t	walked, watched, washed, stopped
most other sounds	d	played, opened, lived, carried
t or d	id	visited, wanted, needed, started

Two things that change in fast speech going to becomes one run of sound, gonna, in speech. Write going to (Unit 14).

can is weak in a sentence and strong on its own. I can swim has a quiet can; Yes, I can has a loud one. can't is always loud, and that is how you hear the difference (Unit 9).

Audio File

Every listening script in the course, to the word. Eighty scripts, four in each of the twenty units.

How to use this book without the recordings. Read the script aloud at a natural pace. Read it twice. Do not read the answers out, and do not slow down past the point where the sentence stops sounding like English — a beginner who only ever hears speech at half speed learns to understand speech at half speed. Where a script marks two voices, two people should read it.

Speaker letters are N Nadia, S Sam, L Lili, M Marek, F Fatima, B Ben, R Rosa, O Omar, and V for a voice who is not one of the eight.

Every figure in the course: its number, the part it belongs to, the job it does, its caption, and alt text for a reader who cannot see it.

The four jobs are data (the figure carries the information the task needs), contrast (it shows one form against another), lexis (it shows what a word means) and document (it reproduces a thing from the world: a form, a receipt, a notice). There is no fifth job, and no figure is decoration.

A beginner starts here.

A1 takes you from your first hello to writing a postcard, asking for what you want, saying how you feel and talking about last year and next year. Nothing is explained in words you have not met.

Every unit has nine parts

- Warm Up — three ways in
- Words & Sounds — the new words, and how to say them
- Grammar — the form, shown before it is named
- Listening — four tasks, every script printed at the back
- Speaking — four tasks you do with a partner
- Reading — real things: a notice, a receipt, a message
- Writing — a form, a frame, then your own lines
- Real-World File — the thing outside the classroom
- Review & Can-Do — what you can do now, ticked by you
